BATTLING FOR NANKOW PASS

Japanese Throw 100,000 Troops Into North China Fighting

TIENTSIN (AP)—Reinforced Japanese troops forced their way five miles into Nankow Pass, the Japanese command officially reported today. Japanese airplanes began a bombardment of Nanking at 5 p.m. today.

The Japanese armies were said to be fighting bitterly for each foot of ground, advancing from peak to peak and taking the fortified mount in positions ridge by ridge.

Almost 100,000 Japanese troops were estimated to have been thrown into the North China battle.

PLAN CONCERTED ATTACK

A concerted attack was underway against the until now impregnable Chinese positions at the highest point of the 15-mile-long pass. It has taken the Japanese almost two weeks to advance the first five miles.

Troops have been pouring into North China from Japan and Manchukuo. Sixteen transport loads were landed off Taku Bar at Tientsin's ports and uncounted thousands of others have been arriving by train from Shanghai on the Manchukuo border.

The Japanese were threatened, however, on the east flank by Chinese troops advancing through Chahar province north of the Great Wall. The Japanese command said it was not worried by the Chinese manoeuvre as the Japanese Kwantung army had been pulled to the west from Manchukuo to guard the flank communications.

The Japanese have completed their domination of northeastern Hopeh province with the key cities of Tientsin and Peiping under their control. After consolidating the conquest they appeared out in three columns, two to the south from Peiping and Tientsin and one to the north against the Chinese holding Nankow Pass, where the Great Wall snakes over the mountains some 30 miles north of Peiping. It was there the Japanese met their first reverses.

The Chinese were moving toward positions 30 miles south of Peiping, and if the advance continued, a Japanese spokesman said, a clash was inevitable.

SHANGHAI (AP)—Masses of Chinese infantry struck hard at the heart of Japanese shore positions in eastern Shanghai late today and forced the enemy lines back almost to the Whangpoo River.

This Chinese drive came just as vanguards of a Japanese army from the homeland were reaching the Shanghai war zone. It threatened to disorganize plans of the

FIVE DROWNED IN CAR UPSET

CHILLIWACK (CP)—Five persons were drowned early this morning when an automobile in which they were driving toward Vancouver plunged from the Trans-Canada Highway into McGillivray Creek, six miles west of this Fraser Valley town.

The dead were tentatively identified from a list of those comprising a party which left interior Pioneer, B.C., yesterday, as:

Mr. and Mrs. Soderlund of Pioneer.
Mrs. A. Pindale, Mrs. Soderlund's mother who lives at Cloverdale. About 50 miles west of Chilliwack.

Mrs. Ida Erickson, about 50, Pioneer.
Miss Muriel Erickson, 21, Pioneer.

Only three bodies were recovered at noon. They were believed to be those of Mrs. Erickson, Mrs. Soderlund and Mrs. Pindale.

"Tonight we will appoint a committee to circularize every member of Chinatown. Already rich merchants have voluntarily subscribed well over $10,000," declared Walter Lee, editor of The New Republic, influential Chinese language newspaper in this city, who said that throughout North America funds were being raised to aid the Chinese in defending their country against the Japanese invaders.

Beneath the silken tapestry in the temple of Tam Kung, God of Prophecy, above the Yen Wo Society on Government Street, worshippers knelt before the altar laden with apples and sweet-meats for the god, and prayed to him in all his wisdom to tell them the outcome of the war and beseeched him on bended knee that the future would be good for the dragon land of their birth.

THIRTY-FOUR DIE AS SPIES

MOSCOW (AP)—Japanese ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu was accused today by Pravda, the official Communist Party newspaper, of abusing his diplomatic rank of spreading secret anti-Communist propaganda in the Soviet capital.

At the same time, the Russian newspaper Soviet Siberia reported the execution of 34 convicted spies and wreckers at Irkutsk after military trials on charges of terrorist activity for the Japanese intelligence service.

This was the second large-scale execution reported within two weeks in Siberia. On August 11, 72 persons were put to death on charges of conniving with Japanese secret service agents to wreck Russian Far East railroads.

Unemployment Plan Studied

Ottawa Must Accept Responsibility for Unemployables, Says Pearson

Federal government proposals for the segregation of unemployed in Canada, aimed at dividing unemployed from unemployables, were studied by Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, and departmental officials this morning.

In commenting upon the Ottawa plans, Mr. Pearson said the division appeared to be drafted exactly along the lines which he had advocated on the floor of the Legislature for the last two years in order that there would be a definite division between those out of work and capable of being employed, and those who were indigent or unemployable.

Mr. Pearson added, however, that to meet the situation the federal government must accept some responsibility for each of the new classifications.

He had received no indication of whether Ottawa would be prepared to make contribution to the classification of unemployables and for that reason could not be sure whether the new plan would be of benefit to the province.

Mr. Pearson felt the federal government should accept responsibility for these men, for in the most part they were made unemployable through the depression and many had merely been pushed out of their own industries and had not adapted themselves to other occupations.

Men In Court For Working Overtime

VANCOUVER (CP)—Twenty-four drivers for McGavin Limited, bakers, were given suspended sentence by Magistrate George McQueen in city police court Wednesday after they pleaded guilty through counsel to working longer than 54 hours per week, the maximum allowed under the hours of work act.

It was the first time employees had been charged under the act in Vancouver.

Police Round Up "Baby Burglars"

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver police said they had "cleared up" a series of petty house-breakings in the east end district by rounding up a gang of five "baby burglars" whose ages ranged from six to 10 years.

Constable J. Frew reported to headquarters one six-year-old member of the gang had admitted robbery of a church and other thefts. The boys were turned over to their parents pending further investigation.

To Neutralize Shanghai Area

PARIS (CP-Havas)—The French government today accepted the British plan for neutralizing the Shanghai area. The plan calls for evacuation of Chinese and Japanese troops and the safeguarding of their respective interests by the United States, Great Britain and France.

The Foreign Ministry, upon receipt of the British suggestion, at once dispatched a note of approval to London.

Press reports from Nanking said Britain was understood to be seeking the co-operation of Italy and Germany also.

MR. JUSTICE A. M. MANSON

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice A. M. Manson of British Columbia Supreme Court yesterday refused to hear a case because most of his fellow-justices were on vacation.

C. H. Colpe brought forward an application to set aside a conviction under the Metalliferous Mining Act. He paid a fine rather than serve an Oakalla Prison sentence ordered by Magistrate Williams at Atlin.

Mr. Justice Manson refused to consider the application. "I have been doing six days a week of work while most of my brother judges are on leave," he said, commenting he had been dealing with an unusual number of important cases involving provincial marketing legislation.

He set the application hearing for early September.

SHANGHAI GOES ON WAR BASIS

Barbed Wire and Sandbag Barricades; Residents Rationed

SHANGHAI (AP)—The 3,500,000 persons in Shanghai went on a truly wartime basis today. Public utilities supplying the essentials of the city's life and activity ordered utmost conservation of their services.

The city will be virtually lightless henceforth, with the main current restricted to hospitals, evacuation depots, and the like.

Foreign communities already have gone on wartime rations. The American Club, which has become the great downtown centre of American interests, is feeding huge numbers of people. The usually elaborate menus, however, have been cut down to soup, beef stew and bread.

British troops began preparations for an organized defence of the international settlement against any attempted invasion by either Chinese or Japanese troops. The settlement, they said, would be defended at all costs.

Barbed-wire entanglements and sandbag barricades were erected for many miles along all approaches to the settlement.

Soviet Hires Wilkins Rescuers to Spare No Efforts to Find Missing Aviators

FAIRBANKS Alaska (AP)—Last seen shortly after they took off before cheering crowds at Moscow—a week ago, the Soviet trans-Polar flyers still were missing today.

As aviators from three nations chafed at prolonged searching delays because of heavy weather, no new word was received from the Russian ship since it sent its last definite message about 4:22 a.m. (P.S.T.) last Friday and vanished in a billowing Arctic fog.

Standing ready here today was Jimmy Mattern, noted American flier.

The weather here continued rainy with low-hanging clouds. Similar conditions existed at Barrow, on Alaska's northernmost tip, where Canadian airman Bob Randall awaited orders from the flying service employing him before resuming his search along the Arctic coast.

His headquarters office in Edmonton gave no reason for interruption of Randall's search, started Tuesday, other than to say Randall had "pretty thoroughly" covered the area assigned.

NEW YORK (AP)—A new rescue expedition, headed by Sir Hubert Wilkins, veteran Arctic and Antarctic explorer, headed northward today in search of the six missing Soviet trans-Polar fliers.

Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, Canadian flier who accompanied Wilkins on the Lincoln Ellsworth Antarctic expedition, was at the controls of the 17-ton flying boat Guba for the first lap of its long journey, and overland flight to Toronto harbor. Also on the plane were Pilot Russell Rogers and Raymond Booth, radio operator. At Port Arthur the plane will pick up Al Cheesman, veteran Antarctic aviator.

Wilkins said he had been hired by the Soviet Government to direct the search. He declared flight operations would continue for several months if necessary to locate Pilot Sigismund Levanevsky and his five comrades.

Spanish Insurgents Claim 10,000 Prisoners In Push to Santander

HENDAYE, Francisco (AP)—The Spanish insurgent high command asserted today Santander's outlying defences, to the southwest of the Biscayan seaport, had "melted away" while the insurgent attackers ploughed to within 20 miles of their goal.

The five-day push toward Santander, the government's last city stronghold on the Bay of Biscay, was estimated to have brought capture of 10,000 of the defenders.

The government positions have been surrounded and gobbled up by the relentless thrusts of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's infantry, artillery, tanks and planes.

The insurgent column on the Palencia Road to Santander, twin of the force operating on the parallel Burgos Road to the east, alone has taken 4,700 prisoners. Many of the captured warriors were placed in concentration camps south of Reinos.

"There is no more enemy to oppose our advance," it was said. "The operations Wednesday could be called a practical march."

More than 400 foreigners were stranded at the mountain resort of Yuling when the Chinese blockaded the Yangtze River at Chinkiang. Chinese steamship companies refused to sell tickets for passage either up or down the river.

Vancouver and Victoria Wish to Present Own Cases to Finance Commission

VANCOUVER—Mayor G. C. Miller said today the British Columbia government "can not possibly" present the city's case for "better terms" before the Royal Commission on financial and administrative relations between various governing bodies in the Dominion.

Commenting on yesterday's statement by Hon. John Hart, Financial Minister, that the government would welcome a joint brief from the municipalities for inclusion in the general provincial brief to be presented to the commission, Mayor Miller said:

"Vancouver has no objection to laying its case before the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, but the city must be allowed to present its own brief to the Royal Commission."

"The province can not possibly present the city's case as in many instances the two bodies are directly opposed."

An executive meeting of the U.B.C.M. will be held here Saturday when Mr. Hart's suggestion will probably be discussed.

Acting Mayor James Adam and several of his aldermen today voiced the opinion Victoria should present its own brief on financial matters to the Royal Commission appointed to consider relationships between the various governments.

"I would most certainly support such a move by Victoria," the acting mayor stated. "We have a brief virtually prepared now, and I would like to see it submitted apart from any brief the Union of British Columbia Municipalities may tender. The union executive is expected to work on a draft at a special convention meeting in Vancouver on Saturday."

The acting mayor will attend the executive meeting on the mainland. Victoria is the largest member city in the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, and as the second largest city in the province, feels it should be entitled to an individual brief inasmuch as its voting power in the union is not sufficient to carry over any opposition which might arise from the smaller towns represented.

FIVE DROWNED IN CAR UPSET

CHILLIWACK (CP)—Five persons were drowned early this morning when an automobile in which they were driving toward Vancouver plunged from the Trans-Canada Highway into McGillivray Creek, six miles west of this Fraser Valley town.

The dead were tentatively identified from a list of those comprising a party which left interior Pioneer, B.C., yesterday, as:

Mr. and Mrs. Soderlund of Pioneer.

Mrs. A. Pindale, Mrs. Soderlund's mother who lives at Cloverdale. About 50 miles west of Chilliwack.

Mrs. Ida Erickson, about 50, Pioneer.

Miss Muriel Erickson, 21, Pioneer.

Only three bodies were recovered at noon. They were believed to be those of Mrs. Erickson, Mrs. Soderlund and Mrs. Pindale.

Segregation Into Three Classes Proposed by Federal Authorities

OTTAWA—The federal government contemplates a division of relief in Canada into three classes, according to a statement by Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor.

Recommended by the National Employment Commission and designed to tighten relief administration, the three classes proposed are: (1) unemployment aid; (2) agricultural aid and relief; (3) assistance to unemployed.

Mr. Rogers said the government has accepted the commission's recommendations that each of these groups "should receive aid appropriate to its special problems, with improved administrative controls brought about by conditions attached to federal grants-in-aid."

His statement adds that, in accordance with the commission's proposals, special measures will be taken to increase employability of the workless group so that the physically fit among them "may be absorbed more readily in the labor market."

The statement was prompted by the release today of an interim report of the commission, covering its activities from June, 1936, to the end of July, 1937.

In a press interview accompanying the release of the report, A. B. Purvis, commission chairman, said in its work the commission had been confronted with problems calling for immediate solution, and it had grappled with these, rather than with "long range" questions which might have relation to future depressions.

REGISTRATION

The commission chairman believed registration of unemployed would clarify the problem this year, and in the future.

"Once you have your breakdown, you have to have the machinery wherewith to tackle the matter," he said. "There the commission has run temporarily up against a brick wall, difficulties related to the constitutional issues involved. We recommend that employment services should be operated nationally, for it is fundamental these should be extended and they should be efficient. In that we have been disappointed."

The commission held strongly, said Mr. Purvis, that the present method of indiscriminate grants-in-aid to the provinces, without any control over the ultimate administration of the moneys, should be abandoned.

New Social Credit Points Considered

EDMONTON (CP)—Premier Aberhart announced here today a special session of the Alberta Legislature to enact legislation replacing three acts disallowed by the Dominion Government would be called as soon as possible after negotiations with federal officials have been completed.

At the conclusion of a cabinet meeting held to discuss Prime Minister Mackenzie King's telegram notifying the government of disallowance of the legislation, Mr. Aberhart reported a reply would be sent tonight to the Dominion Premier. Premier Aberhart declined to disclose contents of the Alberta reply to Mr. Mackenzie King.

The Premier was not prepared at present to indicate the nature of any legislation that might be passed at the special session, but he said it would "clear up the situation" arising from disallowance of the banking acts by the Dominion Government.

In connection with possible legislation, it was recalled that provincial treasurer Solon Low when announcing in the House the 2 per cent provincial sales tax would be abandoned, asserted the government hoped to replace the lost revenue by an agreement with the banks, but if this course failed the province would tax the banks.

"MONETIZE" CREDIT
"An amicable arrangement with the banks," Mr. Low said at the time, "will, it is hoped, provide replacement of the revenue which will be lost by this remission. Otherwise it will be necessary to monetize the credit of the province through their taxation. This coincidentally with remission of the sales tax, will introduce another essential of the Douglas technique of social dynamics, namely, the 'just price'."

"NO TIME FOR HAGGLING"
"When we have a desperate situation in this province and the people in serious need, it is not the time for haggling over constitutional points," said Mr. Low.

Canada To Fight Behind Britain, Says Professor

Decision Is Already Made Canadian Institute of Economics Told

LAKE COUCHICHIING, Ont. (CP)—Canada will go into the next war "behind the British Government," Prof. F. H. Underhill of the University of Toronto said in an address yesterday to the Canadian Institute of Economics and Politics. To say Canadians will decide themselves whether to fight is "pretence," Prof. Underhill believed.

"Of course there will be a great deal of squirming in certain quarters but the decision has already been made. Our minds have been made up for us. We are going into the next British war, so what I say is completely academic," he said in opening his address on Canada's foreign policy.

"The way the new policy of the government and its propaganda hypocrisy was put over is nauseating. The pretence that no commitments had been made and Canadians could make up their minds whether they would join Britain was completely nauseating. The government has decided to join the next British war but they don't think it is expedient to say so."

Evidence of Canada's stand was seen in the $36,000,000 "jammed through Parliament under pretence of Canadian defence to buy bombers and other war material," said Prof. Underhill. He saw other signs in the "masterly inactivity of Mr. Bennett who allowed the Canadian entanglement to be done by a Liberal-National government," and in the new note in the speeches and attitude of university professors and United Church ministers.

"The speaking of university professors is the best weathercock in the country," he continued. "You see the same signs if you watch the clergy of the United Church."

In his own opinion, said the professor, the United States would be with Britain in the next war. After 100 years of chagrin "it gradually dawned on the British government that the function of the United States is to make the world safe for the British Empire."

Prof. Underhill advocated "a policy of delicate tightrope balance between the United States and Britain" as Canada's foreign policy. "We should balance one against the other in a hard-boiled Machiavellian manner, with the balance tilting a little more toward Washington at the present time."

"There is a prevailing feeling that we should do what we can to help democratic countries all over the world. I'm not prepared to say that we shouldn't, though if we go into any British war, we go under British leadership and, personally, I can't convince myself that the British National Government is interested in democracy but only in its imperial interests."

Prof. Underhill said he was in favor of self-defence for Canada, but he argued it could be accomplished very cheaply since there was "no conceivable possibility" of Canada being invaded.

"Canadians should confine their efforts to aid democracy to the North American continent," he continued. "I believe, although I can't prove this, that the North American continent started a new stage towards democracy with the C.I.O. (Committee for Industrial Organization) in industry."

"I believe the acid test of any advocate of democracy is his attitude towards the C.I.O. which represents, though in a crude form, an advance to my mind. Although it may turn out to be the kind of product Mr. Hepburn (Premier of Ontario) thinks it is, I think if the C.I.O. can continue another year or two it will start another era of democracy in our country by an advance towards industrial democracy. Our industries have so far been completely authoritarian."

news, as there are crowds still standing before the bulletin boards even at that time."

Mr. Woo is not the only Vancouver Chinaman here. A number have come over to co-ordinate their efforts with the local Chinese in an anti-Japanese campaign.

"Would they put a boycott on Japanese goods?" he was asked.

Mr. Lee, sitting at his desk in the New Republic, laughed.

"We've had a boycott on Japanese goods for years," he said.

Aside from a patriotic interest, some of the Chinese have a personal interest in the war as many of them have friends and relatives in Shanghai. The editor did not know whether any of them had been killed or wounded in the fighting.

More than anything else, the local Chinese are thrilled by the thought that Chiang Kai-shek is at last fighting. They have no doubt who is going to win. Now that all China is in the war, Japan will be defeated they say.

"It's just like a game," was how one Chinaman explained the fighting at Shanghai. "The foreign concessions are the boundaries and the Chinese are handicapped by them. The Japanese took advantage of these concessions during the fighting in 1932 but now the other nations have made new laws to keep them out."

GOOD BUSINESS
The trouble in the Orient has been good business to the New Republic. Its flat press has been growing under the weight of new subscriptions.

"Every day we get 30 or 40 new subscribers," said the business manager of the newspaper. Tonight's meeting of the China Salvation Society will be the final meeting before the drive to collect money to aid the government. A preliminary meeting was held on Tuesday night and plans were drawn up.

In 1932 Chinese all over the world subscribed $20,000,000 to the gallant 19th Army defending Shanghai. Of this the Chinese in Victoria raised between $40,000 and $50,000. They expect their collection to far exceed this amount this time.

U.S. WITH BRITAIN
In his own opinion, said the professor, the United States would be with Britain in the next war. After 100 years of chagrin "it gradually dawned on the British government that the function of the United States is to make the world safe for the British Empire."

Prof. Underhill advocated "a policy of delicate tightrope balance between the United States and Britain" as Canada's foreign policy. "We should balance one against the other in a hard-boiled Machiavellian manner, with the balance tilting a little more toward Washington at the present time."

Japanese command-for seeking victory on a greatly extended front.

The advance of the Chinese was reported to have reached the Ward road and Yangtze road, well within the eastern—or Japanese-held—district of the international settlement. Both points are within a few hundred yards of the Whangpoo riverfront, where reinforcements and supplies for the Japanese forces ashore have been landed.

The attacking Chinese forces came from their Kiangnan area on the northeast. Apparently they were trying to isolate several thousand Japanese marines holding the Honkew sector. Chinese said at one point their lines had been advanced four miles, although on most of the front it was held to a few hundred yards.

The Chinese attacking forces braved savage bombardment from the air, from Japanese warships on the river and batteries ashore as they drove their lines forward.

Military experts said if the Chinese succeeded in reaching the waterfront and holding their new lines the position of the Japanese between Whangpoo and Soochow Creek—hitherto the main Japanese land forces—would be precarious.

Soochow Creek forms the boundary between the Japanese section of the international settlement and the western districts guarded by British and United States marines, standing behind strong barricades to prevent incursions by either contending army.

Japanese lines were badly bent about a mile east of the Astor House Hotel, at the junction of Soochow Creek and the Whangpoo. Tanks and armored cars were rushed into the breach as the Japanese marines had to give ground.

The Japanese command, however, prepared to throw into the battle for Shanghai the new army arriving from Japan, greatly extended the field of operations and compel the Chinese to withdraw by flanking movements.

Seven troops landed Japanese reinforcements and war supplies at Japanese docks on the Whangpoo waterfront today. Sixteen more transports with 20,000 soldiers aboard were reported lying at the mouth of the Yangtze ready to attempt a landing under cover of darkness and the guns of their battle fleet.

At least two divisions from Japan were reported entering the Shanghai campaign immediately and 60,000 more men were understood under route from the homeland or under orders for Shanghai.

It was believed the Japanese attempt at landing would be made at Liuhou, on the Yangtze, 17 miles northwest of here, where in 1932 the Japanese army effected a landing and broke the stubborn Chinese resistance.

But two Chinese divisions were reported entrenched there to fight the invaders.

There were also reports the Japanese would land an expedition at Chapu, in Chekiang province, 45 miles southwest of Shanghai, to drive in the Chinese right flank.

ALBERTA TO PASS NEW BANK LEGISLATION

stitutional points," Premier Aberhart stated yesterday in commenting on the Dominion Government's action.

The Alberta government would not hasten to take any action in reply to disallowance of the legislation, Mr. Aberhart declared.

"The need of relief for people is so urgent that we are doing everything possible to understand the Ottawa viewpoint," he added.

Responsibility for the present "constitutional crisis" was charged to Prime Minister King in a telegram sent to the Dominion Premier last night by the Social Credit members of Parliament at the end of a day-long caucus here.

The telegram, signed by Ernest G. Hansell, member for Macleod, and secretary of the group, asserted the federal government's disallowance of banking legislation passed by the Alberta legislature proved policy of the Dominion Government was controlled by banks.

G. F. Powell and L. D. Byrne, technical experts sent to Alberta by Major C. H. Douglas, attended the caucus for a brief period, and an "informal discussion" took place.

Text of the telegram to Premier Mackenzie King:

"Social Credit members of Parliament in caucus today in the midst of a serious constitutional crisis remind you of our contention asserted during past sessions that banks control the policy of governments. Your veto of Alberta legislation proves your government is no exception, and precipitates this constitutional crisis for which you must be held responsible."

LACOMBE, Alta. (CP)—Disallowance of Alberta bank legislation by the government has "hastened advent of Social Credit by three months," Hon. Lucien Maynard, Minister of Municipal Affairs, told a Social Credit rally here last night. He did not explain how the action would hasten Social Credit.

"No judge, no court, nor Privy Council has the right to interpret any law in distinct defiance to

NEW SYSTEM PLANNED FOR CANADIAN RELIEF

"This method of making grants-in-aid, without any special intent, should be replaced by more specific grants, governed by the types of need," he declared.

TRAINING PLANS

Important in the commission's recommendations was that which contemplates increasing the degree of employability of those receiving unemployment aid. A beginning had been made with Youth Training plans; but that, Mr. Purvis said, was not enough. He recalled that approximately 50 per cent of the workless employables on relief were between the ages of 25 and 45.

The commission had therefore recommended to the government that a special sum be appropriated for reconditioning, training and retraining needy persons in industrial pursuits. Half of this sum should be applied to youth measures, the remainder to the older age-group.

At present approximately 200,000 employable persons were on relief, the report indicated.

Portuguese-Czech Breach Explained

Refusal to Sell Arms and Spain Attitude Pointed
by Lisbon

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—The Portuguese government has broken diplomatic relations with Czechoslovakia because the Praha government refused to let Portugal buy arms and because of the Czechoslovakian attitude toward Spain non-intervention, an official communique said today.

The government statement disclosed that the Portuguese minister to Czechoslovakia left Praha for Vienna yesterday with the legation staff, leaving the task of looking after Portuguese interests in the middle European republic to the Italian minister.

Czechoslovakia's refusal to permit Portugal, the peninsular neighbor of Spain, to buy war materials was due, the communique asserted, "to third party influences and pressure exerted by those interested in delaying Portugal's rearmament."

The dispute had its origin two years ago, the communique continued, when Portugal placed a large order for machine guns with the Ceskoslovenske Zbrojovka factory in pursuance of her rearmament programme.

But the factory informed the Portuguese minister at Praha
 July 23 that the Czechoslovakian government had refused permission to supply the armament because of the attitude Portugal had assumed with regard to non-intervention in the 13-month-old Spanish civil war.

The Portuguese minister expressed his surprise. Several notes were exchanged and finally demarches were made, it was said.

WITHDREW PATROL
 More than a month ago Portugal contributed to the disabling of the 27-nation Spanish non-intervention system by withdrawing facilities for a patrol of her frontier to prevent arms and soldiers from reaching insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

The Lisbon communique said
 the Praha government had offered several different explanations of its attitude, including the statement that equivalent measures had been taken regarding an order for arms placed by Mexico.

It was also pleaded that Czechoslovakia's own arms requirements made it impossible to fulfill the order for machine guns,
 according to the communique.

"Portugal immediately saw the true meaning of Czechoslovakia's attitude," the statement went on,
 "and understood it was due to third party influences and pressure exerted by those interested in delaying Portuguese rearmam-ent."

Portugal declared she would wait until August 5 for a definite reply from Czechoslovakia, thereafter reserving her attitude. This was followed by the diplomatic breach.

CANYON MAY YIELD GOLD

Famed Sinking Land May Reveal Rich Deposits

BUHL, Idaho (AP)—Farmer
 H. A. Robertson, stunned recently when his fields of ripening grain slithered from view in Idaho's now famed sinking canyon, was cheered today by the prediction of a veteran mining expert a rich vein of gold would be discovered when the throbbing lands come to rest.

"If the canyon keeps on sinking a little more it won't even be necessary to blast," said L. A.
 Tibbs of Gooding, known here as an expert on rocks.

The tract, which within two weeks has dropped as much as 200 feet, rests upon "paleozoic quartzite," which has become softened by seepage, Tibbs said.

"Between the paleozoic quartzite and the pegmatite, may be found the gold-bearing quartz."
 "And sometimes, impeded in pegmatite, there is bluestone, which runs in value from $5,000
 a ton on up."

"As soon as that canyon stops sinking there ought to be something of a gold rush hereabouts."

The ill-fated Hindenburg was 803 feet long, held 7,000,000 cubic feet of hydrogen and had a top speed of 84 m.p.h. It could carry a load of 15 tons.

FIVE UNIONS NEW IN CITY

Big Labor Gains Reported
Since April 19; Seek Right to Organize

Five new labor unions, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada have been organized in Victoria since April 19, it was reported to the Trades and Labor Council yesterday evening.

The new unions are for lumber
 and sawmill workers, butchers, dry cleaners and pressers, bakers
 and riggers and shipyard workers. Within the next few weeks it is expected that the plumbers and steamfitters will be organized and that painters and decorators will form a local.

James Wilson, organizer, presented the report and the council voted funds for the continuation of his work.

Provincial legislation seeking the right for labor to organize will be sought by a labor convention to be held here during the next session of the Legislature. A resolution sponsoring this gathering was approved by the meeting yesterday evening.

Brief talks on organization work were given by Jack Bruce, Toronto, who is here to organize plumbers, and Ed. Smith, Vancouver, who is the mainland organizer for the painters and decorators.

Discuss Judge's Retiring Rules

New Legislation Is Proposed by Canadian Bar Association at Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—New legislation governing the retirement of judges was proposed in a report to the Canadian Bar Association from its committee on the administration of civil justice yesterday.

The report said successive amendments to the Judges' Act had had undesirable results in that they discouraged the retirement of provincial Superior Court judges who might otherwise have retired on adequate annuities, and led to the return to practice of retired judges of the Supreme Court of Canada. Such results were not conducive "to the efficient administration of justice."

At present judges of the Supreme Court of Canada must retire at 75 years, but there is no compulsory retirement age for judges of provincial Superior Courts. The committee found these arrangements urgently in need of revision.

Amendments were proposed
 with a view to ensuring no obstacle be placed in the way of the voluntary retirement of a judge of ripe age and long service and that after retirement a judge's wisdom and experience should remain available while he was capable and willing to serve.

These objects, the report continued, would be attained by repeal of the provisions whereby judges appointed after 1920 were deprived of the right to retire on annuities equal to their salaries;
 by provision for the retirement
 on full annuities of judges appointed after 1920 who had served for 20 years, and by imposing an obligation on judges who retire on annuities equal to their salaries to remain available for judicial duty when needed.

The committee submitted a draft bill for consideration by the meeting and possible presentation to the minister of justice.

 the show open, and congratulated
 the members of the three insti-hoped they would receive the support they deserved in their work.

The judges for the flowers, fruit and vegetables, E. M. Whyte and N. B. Pollock, declared the quality of the exhibits to be excellent, decisions being difficult to make in some cases. Considering the unusually dry weather, the exhibits in the collections of vegetables were especially good.
 The winners in this class were Miss Scott and H. Benson. The entries in the fruit section were well contested, the judges making special reference to the ap-plets exhibited, stating no importation this summer could equal those shown.

Outstanding in the flower section were the fine blooms of zinnias, dahlias and gladioli.

Competition was so keen in the decorated table class, a special class was created, this award going to James Wilson of Colwood.
 The entries in the children's section were worthy of comment,

Economic Socialism in Japan

WHETHER OR NOT JAPAN PURSUES an officially declared war in north China, her present operations there are bound to drive her one step farther on the road toward a semi-warlike economy with complete state control over economic processes, according to the Far Eastern Survey, published by the Institute of Pacific Relations.

"In recent months the Japanese military party has intensified its steady pressure in favor of state intervention in and control of industry and trade," writes Miriam S. Farley, research associate. "The present Sino-Japanese clash will undoubtedly strengthen this movement, as disturbances in the international sphere are a powerful aid in persuading the country of the necessity of such a policy."

The strengthening of foreign exchange control and the huge gold shipments of recent months, while justified perhaps by existing economic difficulties, have been interpreted as precautionary measures designed to fortify Japan's financial position against possible emergencies, the Survey states. In any case they point to a greater measure of economic control.

The prevailing trend toward government regulation of industry is likewise exemplified in the organization by the Hayashi cabinet of a National Planning Board and a Commodity Price Board, which are being continued under the Konoye cabinet. The former is the kind of organ long desired by the army as a sort of super-cabinet for co-ordination of economic policies, though it remains to be seen how important its role will be.

A Study in National Customs

MANY NEWSPAPERS, AND ESPECIALLY American newspapers, will doubtless become very pontifical and admonitory about the enthusiastic action of John Roosevelt in baptizing Mayor Nouveau of Cannes with champagne during his speech of welcome last Sunday. But they will be wrong if they attempt to make anything of it more than a foolish prank.

Unlike the British royal family there lies no onus upon the temporary royal family of United States to maintain the traditions of the White House. They are free and independent units, mere citizens, even the chateleine herself may plunge into the maelstrom of daily journalism.

If this incident is interpreted properly it shows that an exuberant young American has brought the greetings of the youth of America to the Mayor of Cannes and in the truly American manner. He said it with flowers and watered them with champagne.

Or if a more serious view must be taken it may be along the lines suggested by Hilaire Belloc in his famous book, "The Four Men." It recalls the two theologians who were in an inn and arguing interminably about baptism while the rest of the party were waiting to get along. One of them, to stop the argument, said:

"Baptism is of three orders. There is baptism by water, which is of the spirit, there is baptism by fire, which is of life and with difficulty attainable, and there is baptism by beer which stoppeth argument." He then threw a mug of ale into their faces and left.

Thus if young Mr. Roosevelt thought the fine and doubtless dramatic speech of welcome was too long he decided to baptize the mayor, not with mere beer, but with the excellent wine of the country and slapped him with a bunch of flowers for good measure.

He might even have said: "Lafayette, we are here—and how."

The Pity of Strikes

WITH THE COUNTLESS COLUMNS OF strike news from United States industrial centres and the resultant arguments of who was at fault, who won and who lost, comes a set of figures that tells the story in simpler fashion.

Records compiled from January 1 through July show that 24 strikers and sympathizers were killed and 490 injured.

The year of 1937 will not go down in history as the year of the great strikes, because there have been other labor stirrings of as great magnitude and of greater casualties. But it may be known as the year of the last great strikes.

For modern economics cannot forever permit conditions on either side which cause strikes. Back of those pitiful 24 dead and 490 injured are the millions of dollars lost in wages and therefore in purchasing power, the added burden to relief rolls and the general inconvenience to the public at large. Thousands of men live by the simple rule of earned wages and paid bills. Those things must go on.

That patented device, which provides perfume in the theatre appropriate to the film, will be a little hard on the customers in some of the modern pictures of stark realism.

Two Constructive Decisions

FROM OTTAWA THIS WEEK HAVE come two decisions to which the financial markets of the world, as well as all Canada, attach considerable importance. One is the announcement of the Royal Commission to go into the relations of the provinces, their respective revenue-collecting rights, taxation in general and the matter of subsidies. The other is the cabinet's rejection without appeal of Alberta's attempt to transfer control of banks from the federal to provincial hands—a matter which Premier William Aberhart refused to have tested before the Supreme Court of Canada.

Both these decisions have been received with approval in financial centres. The unanimity of this approval should play an important part in establishing the credit of the provinces of Canada as sound in the eyes of the world. Talk of Social Credit and of what Hon. John Hart has aptly described as other "financial nostrums" has not helped any of the provinces. The Financial News of London speaks of the western provinces of Canada as being in a state of virtual insolvency and dependent upon federal grants and adds that cities within their areas are similarly overburdened with debt. It adds that default has become a regular weapon of policy, and points out the Alberta plan threatened Canadian provincial credit with such blows as would throw doubt upon the credit status of the whole Dominion.

The polls have shown there are comparatively few Social Crediters in Canada, except in Alberta. It would be unfair to the rest of the Dominion if these few should endanger the credit of the whole of Canada for a creed which got a foothold, like many similar creeds, during abnormal times. History books are full of stories of failures of short financial cuts to prosperity. Fortunately Canada has kept clear of such attempted short cuts. In spite of pressure from a few very vocal but small minorities, she has kept financially within the chartered seas. Because we are continuing on such a course, financial centres are now able to place their approval on the rejection of Mr. Aberhart's plan and hail with satisfaction the appointment of a Royal Commission on financial relations between the provinces and the Dominion as a step in the right direction.

Tourist Reciprocity

SOME LOOKED ASKANCE WHEN Canada last year decided to reciprocate the privilege enjoyed by U.S. visitors to Canada and permit Canadians who visit United States to bring back $100 worth of tourists' purchases.

Apparently Canada has not suffered from this reciprocity. In the first year they were so privileged Canadian tourists brought back $4,000,000 worth of American goods duty free, and at the rate of their purchases to date this year the total will amount to $10,000,000, federal officials estimate. This works out at one-tenth of the $100,000,000 total Canadians spend a year in United States for traveling and all other tourist outlays.

On the other hand, Washington figures indicate that purchases of Canadian goods by United States visitors here have shown a substantial increase in recent months. D. Leo Dolan, director of the official Canadian Travel Bureau, estimates that this year Canada is playing host to the greatest tourist influx in its history. On a conservative estimate he sets $325,000,000 as the amount they will spend in the Dominion this year. On a basis of 10 per cent spent for purchases of goods to take home, this means visitors will buy around $32,500,000 from Canadian shops. As most of these tourists come from the United States, Canada is losing nothing in admitting duty free $10,000,000 worth of Canadian tourist goods, the duty on which might amount to approximately $2,000,000. That is, of course, presuming the whole $10,000,000 worth would be brought in if there were a duty against the goods.

Notes

There are three kinds of widowers: grass, sod and bridge.

The Japanese attitude in China is a little reminiscent of a woman shopper in a bargain basement on sale day.

Announcement by Ottawa of the scope of the Royal Commission should be a source of particular gratification to Premier Pattullo and his cabinet as many of the subjects listed for investigation are those the Premier has emphasized over a period of years as calling for immediate revision.

CIGAR BOX DIVIDENDS

From Cleveland Press

There is a good chuckle in the story of the Chattanooga storekeeper who put up an empty cigar box in his store under a sign reading:

"Police got my slot machine; please put your money here." The chuckle comes from the fact that his patrons took him at his word, so that in a few days the box was nearly full of coins.

The average American likes a joke, and isn't above tossing away a nickel if it appeals to his sense of humor. The point, however, is that the customers who "played" this cigar box got just about as much for their money as they would have got if the slot machine had never been removed.

The average slot machine is an every-day thing goes in, nothing comes out proposition. You might just about as well put your money in an empty cigar box, for all you are likely to get out of it. Indeed, these Chattanooga players are probably ahead of the game; they at least got a chuckle for their money.

HOLIDAY

THIS IS THE SEASON, as you will know if you observe these things, when nature takes its annual holiday. Nature is pretty busy and active for an old lady and can't afford to go away for a real vacation like the rest of us, but she manages, like the tired executive of big business, to take it a little easy.

Her year's work is practically complete now—a few apples to paint up, some potatoes to be sweated a trifle, that odd late chrysanthemum to be dressed in Sunday clothes before it goes into the world, some odd jobs of that sort. But compared with the great rush of the spring and early summer, this is an easy time for the old lady. She can sit back with her knitting and enjoy herself a bit.

See how the weeds have almost stopped growing, and how the shrubs that were pushing out new branches a few weeks ago are quiet now, and there is a quiet over the trees that have finished the year's job of leaf and wood making.

But it won't be for long. When nature seems to go to sleep in the autumn, when poets write that she is taking her long sleep, actually she will only have transferred her energies elsewhere, gone underground. The family above ground have all been attended to, but the little ones down below will soon be clamoring for attention. In a few weeks now the old lady will have to start the bulbs sprouting, ever so quietly, down in the earth, and there will be the huge annual job of making buds for next year—a routine job and little noted by the public, but extremely important—and there are billions of seeds falling into the soil now, which must be covered up and kept warm until the spring. The old lady's holiday will be brief.

GLAMOUR

I BIN IN TOWN," said Mrs. Noggins, "to see that get Joan Crawford, in the movies, on account of I was tired of being at 'ome all the time with me 'ens. Sometimes you get tired of yer 'ens, you know, and you'd druther see somebody like Joan Crawford. I mean, she's got such gogly eyes that fair give you the creeps and all. Well, I'm glad to get back to me 'ens."

"I read about them movie gels sometimes in the newspapers wot Mrs. Boggs brings over. (The garbage she brings these days, ain't so good, though, and you'd almost think we was in another depression, and it looks like the Boggs is 'avin' a 'ard time to keep up their payments on their new car or the last baby ain't been paid for yet). Well, like I say, I read the papers about these movie gels and all I can read is glamour. Everybody down in 'ollywood 'as glamour. You can't get in there without glamour. You got to 'ave glamour or you can't eat down there. But wot I can't find out is, wot is glamour?"

"I dunno. Crawford, she's got glamour, the paper says. But I can't see it anywhere. Is it them big gogly eyes? Garbo, she's got glamour. Maybe it's 'er long 'air or big feet or somethin'. Even Gable 'e's got glamour, the paper says. Wot is it? Is it that little trick mus-tache or 'is big ears? I dunno, but you got to 'ave somethin' wrong with you, different from hanybody else, to 'ave glamour."

"My boy, Alf, 'e's got a gel, name of Julia, and all the fellas says she 'as glamour, too. But I can't see it. Only thing I see in 'er, she's got stockings that don't come up to the knee and perfume that smells like a undertaker's parlor in full bloom. If that's glamour, I says to Alf, yer welcome to it, boy, I says. I'll take full-length stockings every time, I says; they're warmer, and I never did like undertaker's parlors."

"Well, I bin readin' the papers like I said, and seen all the pitchers of the glamour gels, and none of them without many clothes on 'em, and I come to conclusions glamour don't mean so much after all. It just means dressed in undies. Will you let me off 'ere, sir? I'm goin' back to me 'ens."

DISILLUSIONMENT

MY FLAPPER FRIEND, Gladys, met a famous movie star here the other day and seems to have somewhat the same idea, too.

"To tell you the truth," said Gladys, "it actually appalled me, if you know what I mean; because, I mean to say, you do expect that they'll look at least a little like their pictures, don't you; but really she didn't look as much like herself as I do, and to tell you the truth, her complexion was terrible and she was as white as a sheet except for her make-up, and it was a poor job, too; why, you could find a hundred girls in Victoria that look a lot better than she does and their make-up would be a little better, too—I mean, actually, so I mean, how do they get away with it? The camera, I suppose. It can practically make you look all right no matter how ugly you are, but what I can't understand is why they have to pick ugly girls when there are so many good-looking girls all over the place; the world is fairly crawling with them, you might say, and it's not brains they want, either, because this one was as dumb an ox as you'd see on a day's march, and as for art, she wouldn't know what it was if you served it to her on a half shell, so what I mean is, it's not fair, is it, for these girls to get away with it the way they do, all the boys crazy over them, until every girl has to look like Greta Garbo or somebody or she can't get a boy to buy her a soda. I mean, if the boys could have actually seen this one, instead of off, then they'd realize that the rest of us aren't such a strain on the eyesight, after all, and if we were in a camera and photographed only from the best side, like those babies, we might look pretty good, too, and maybe they wouldn't look so hot over a typewriter or a dishpan, but do you think any man would believe that? I mean, there's actually no justice about it. And if you could have seen the color of this girl's finger nails and the way she wore her hair . . ."

Financial Interests Purposely Left Off Royal Commission

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD OTTAWA.

THE MACKENZIE KING administration nurses great hopes for the Royal Commission on Dominion-provincial relations which it named at the first of the week.

It hopes it will prove the most important investigating body ever appointed in the history of Confederation.

It hopes it will constitute itself a business recovery commission for the Dominion of Canada.

That is the other significance which the commission holds, equaling or surpassing its importance as a body from which major constitutional reform is likely to come. It is designed to be the final agency for bringing full economic recovery to the nation.

The clue to this motive of the government in naming the commission is provided by the terms of reference. As Parliament Hill reads them, the Federal authorities are regarded as appealing to the royal commissioners in the strongest possible terms to direct their investigation towards the promotion of business recovery.

In as plain language as is ever used in any governmental communication, the commissioners are seen as invited to give their opinion on the fundamental question of the ability of Canadian business and productive enterprise to extend and consolidate the recovery which it has already made under the taxation burden which rests upon it.

To state the same fact from another angle: The commission is invited—none the less earnestly because inferentially—to constitute itself a critic of governments and particularly of their expenditures. Federal, provincial and municipal administrations are all to be scrutinized and their efficiency or extravagance impartially commented upon. Then, having criticized, the commission is invited to submit to the Federal cabinet its ideas for governmental reform in the Dominion, subject to one proviso alone: any recommendations which may be made must contemplate a Federal system. (That is to say, there is to be no proposal for scrapping the provinces).

A word regarding the commission's personnel:

Federal circles contend that an understanding of the considerations influencing the ministry is necessary to any appraisal of the selections which have been made. The Federal authorities had in mind, it is stated, the importance of enlisting the co-operation for the inquiry of all the provinces, including Alberta. It was necessary, accordingly, that the commission should be free of the slightest suspicion of any connection with the so-called "vested interests" of the country. Consequently, no representative of Canadian business or finance could be appointed, although the inquiry is fundamentally financial in its character.

Governmental circles admit that the absence from the commission of a representative of Canadian business or finance is a weakness, but they contend that it is a weakness which, in the circumstances, must be accepted as largely unavoidable.

Furthermore, still with the idea of guarding against any suspicion of the commission being dominated by any preconceived view, the government is said to have sought a well-balanced personnel rather than securing some outstanding personality—presumably some internationally celebrated economist—to dominate its deliberations.

In this desire the government is regarded by Parliament Hill as having succeeded admirably. While the commission is not regarded as spectacular in its personnel, it is looked upon as an assemblage of sincere, diligent and highly competent individuals, whose solid qualities conceivably will be of greater use in the task in hand than would be the reputation of some world celebrity.

VISITOR DISLIKES TAGGERS

To the Editor:—We have been staying on your beautiful island for the past four weeks, and have had a glorious time. Last evening we enjoyed the delightful benefit performance on your Showboat, and thought what a good way that was to raise money for a good cause. Last Saturday we noticed efforts being made to raise money for the Lifeboat Association by "taggers." Wouldn't it have been better for some of your service clubs to put a good concert to raise funds for such worthy cause? Surely you have talent enough in your city that could entertain visitors and get a crowd big enough to have a good sum after paying any expense of your Showboat. This would be better than being pestered with "buy a tag" at every corner. Rotary, Gyros, etc., show what you can do.

Speaking as a total abstainer, Lady Montgomery-Massingberd said it would help a great deal if people who did not care for alcoholic drink would "take the pledge."

"Those of you who go to sherry parties and cocktail parties," she added, "finish what is in your glasses. Do not let it go away to be drunk in the pantry by somebody who, perhaps, has not taken it before, or has not acquired the taste."

Bullets Raked Bombed Vessel

Planes Which Attacked British Tanker Machine-gunned Crew

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Machine gun bullets raked the deck of the British Corpal as the crew prepared to launch lifeboats, the captain of the tanker reported yesterday to his owners on arrival after being bombed by three airplanes in the Mediterranean on August 8.

The British Tanker Company, owners, made public the captain's report of the attack that led last week to a British protest to General Francisco Franco—commander-in-chief of the Spanish insurgents.

The captain reported that early August 8 three tri-motored planes flew over the ship off Algiers. One circled over the British Corpal and dropped three bombs near the hull. It roared away, returned and dropped three more. One after the other, all three planes repeated the action until about 40 bombs were dropped. One bomb damaged the mast.

When he instructed the crew to prepare to launch lifeboats the planes dived and swept the deck with machine gun fire, forcing the sailors below for safety, the report added.

An S.O.S. was wirelessed as a precaution, but was canceled when the planes sped off.

The captain said the red ensign flew conspicuously from the tanker all through the attack.

He said the machine were all of one type. "They were tri-motored monoplanes with white tails and dark-colored standard crosses painted on white," he said. "The body color was red, faded white and blue-black in diagonal slashes. It was red near the head. On one of them was the number 9,138, painted in black on a white diagonal."

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

AUGUST 19, 1912
(From The Times Files)

Word was received today from Ottawa that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will leave there on August 27 on his western trip, and that he expects to be held in this city September 4 to 7. The attendance of Canada's most distinguished statesman at the forestry convention will make this important occasion a memorable one for this city.

Local athletes are planning to give Hal Beasley and Tom Gallon, Victoria members of the Canadian Olympic team, a rousing welcome when they arrive home next Thursday. Beasley competed in the 100 and 200-metre dashes and the relay at the games, while Gallon was a contender in the 400 metres.

Within a few days it is expected that negotiations for the sale of about half a dozen of the sealing schooners lying at the Point Ellice bridge will be completed. After being overhauled by their new owners, the vessels will be towed away from this port probably never to return again. It is understood that the schooner Markland, one of the finest in the fleet, will be disposed of shortly. Two other schooners, Carrie C. W. and Genevieve, will be converted into fish barges.

Reductions have been made in the sewer staff of the city to the extent of about 600 men owing to the lack of funds in the financial end of the department. When Engineer Rust came to Victoria, and during the regime of Angus Smith, there were between 800 and 900 men employed on the city street and sewer work. To-day the civic payroll for the sewer department contains the names of very few more than 200 men. These may be augmented soon by additional crews when the engineer and the council have straightened out the sewer finances.

An airline from Moscow to Stockholm is to be started soon, and will make the trip in seven hours.

CRICKETERS ARE GUESTS

Touring M.C.C. Players Are Entertained at Civic Banquet

"We have made numerous friends on our tour across Canada and our deepest regret is that we are torn away again as soon as we meet, and are given no further chance to cultivate our acquaintanceships," said Captain B. C. Newman in thanking Victoria for its wonderful hospitality toward his club, the Marylebone Cricket Club, at a farewell banquet in honor of the visiting cricketers by the city last night in the Empress Hotel.

He said he was more than glad to have an opportunity to express his thanks for the fine treatment M.C.C. has received during their short stay in Victoria, and emphasized that should the club make another visit next year it would be difficult to try and prevent the same players from attending.

He said the object of the M.C.C. was not to make a tour of this sort as a test side in search of a game and play high, competitive cricket, but rather to play with teams than against them. He commended the Victoria team captained by Reg Wenman for its fine showing during the afternoon game, noting that the Marylebone Club was nearly defeated. Newman said that since his visit to Canada he has learned that Canadian play the British game in the right way—for the love of the game. He said Canadians really play good cricket.

Acting Mayor James Adam acted as chairman, and in the opening address referred to the visitors as a "grand bunch of boys." He noted that their visit here coincided with the city's jubilee, but also pointed out that the Marylebone Cricket Club was much older than Victoria, it being established in 1814.

He urged the touring cricketers to drop in at Lord Kennelworth's Fairbridge Farm during their Durcan visit tomorrow. He said there were children from London, Liverpool, Belfast and Glasgow enjoying great surroundings and plenty of healthy exercise. The acting mayor also paid tribute to the splendid showing of the local club in the cricket game and said that the visit of the M.C.C. would be beneficial to the Victoria boys. He hoped their stay was a pleasant one.

Reg Wenman, captain of the Victoria team, in a brief address spoke of the M.C.C. as the ambassadors of cricket and was glad that Victoria was able to make a game out of the fixture. He wished some of the visitors could stay and teach local cricketers more about the game.

G. H. Harman, president of the Victoria and District Cricket Club, spoke briefly and expressed thanks to John Baxter, mayor's secretary; Secretary A. Land of the Victoria and District Cricket Club and Frank Jordan for their efforts to make the banquet a success.

Hubert Lethaby introduced the umpires of the afternoon game, A. H. Ferguson and H. A. Rhodes, both of whom spoke. "Giddy" Goward, a veteran local cricketer, was also introduced. During the evening J. Matheson contributed a song to Jesse Longfield's accompaniment.

Dr. C. Davies to Talk Tomorrow

Dr. Clem Davies will speak at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium tomorrow evening at 8. His theme will be "The Secret of Personality."

This message, delivered at Burnaby on Monday attracted a great audience and the people present laughed heartily while Dr. Davies pressed home the points of his message.

People who have been having a hard time with themselves will find this lecture on Friday night of great value to their personalities, Dr. Davies says.

A community song service will start at 7.45. Don Orr will lead the singing and take the chair.

"Hell Drivers" Here Tomorrow

Admission is free for the people of Victoria to see thrilling, dangerous and death-defying motor car "carabatics" such as they have never seen before. They will take place tomorrow and Saturday at the Willows race track at 6.30 p.m. The world-famous "Hell Drivers" of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada Limited will be there to prove the safety construction of stock model Dodge and Plymouth cars. Three Dodge and three Plymouth cars were selected at random from a large group "right off the line. Those cars will be crashed, jumped over hedges, hurled through flaming walls of fire and rolled over and over. They will be generally flung to all points of the compass to demonstrate the progress Chrysler engineers have made toward greater safety in motor construction.

A great crowd is expected to witness this unique "show," which has made the world gasp.

Veterans Jailed For Obstruction

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fifty-four unemployed war veterans, charged with obstructing the police, received sentences of six weeks in jail when they appeared before Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson in police court yesterday.

The men were arrested last week when they thronged downtown intersections, bearing placards and jangling coins in tin cans in an apparent effort to solicit funds from passersby.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Co. Stores or any drugist, a package of Hemoroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemoroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.

Garden Party Greets New Pastor

Rev. Norman Crees Welcomed At Fairfield Gathering

Rev. Norman Crees, the new pastor of Fairfield United Church, and Mrs. Crees were welcomed by a large number of parishioners and friends of the church at an enjoyable garden party held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Piercy, 810 Linden Avenue.

The board of stewards of the church sponsored the affair, and Alderman James Adam, acting mayor, introduced by Mrs. Piercy, conveyed greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Crees on behalf of the city, and expressed good wishes for their happiness and success in their new charge. Mr. Crees, in thanking the gathering for its cordial welcome, observed that he had spent the month of July in exploring Victoria and districts nearby, and that during August he had been busy in making the acquaintance of the people of his parish. He thanked all present for their cordial welcome.

Mrs. George Gordon was general convener of the afternoon's arrangement. Mrs. L. Benson had charge of a stall of needlework and Mrs. Percy Richards was convener of the afternoon tea which was served in the garden under the trees.

Mrs. P. Hawkes was in charge of the home cooking table and Mrs. C. A. Fields sold home-made candy. Miss P. Clarke dispensed ice cream.

Mrs. Jamie Cameron was in charge of the attractive musical programme, singing two solos and also acting as accompanist for Mrs. Percy Richards and Mrs. J. Keating. Miss Marion Braithwaite contributed an amusing recitation. At the close of the afternoon the guests, individually and collectively, tendered their thanks to the host and hostess for their delightful hospitality, and to all who were responsible for the success of the afternoon.

The committee largely responsible for the success of the dance included Miss Berna Waring, convener, and the committee members, Commander C. T. Beard, Mr. G. C. L. Howell, Dr. M. L. Olsen, Mr. Leslie Macdonnell and Mr. B. Deane-Freeman.

The rooms were decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums. Bridge was played, Mrs. Robert Alexander winning the first prize. The guests included Mrs. Moody, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. A. Chatfield, Mrs. Robert Alexander, Miss Marian Alexander, Mrs. R. Fromson, Mrs. E. Conroy, Mrs. J. Barker, Mrs. G. Hughes, Mrs. M. Mitchell and Mrs. Willot.

Mrs. J. B. Paterson entertained at her home, 502 Montreal Street, on Tuesday evening in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. D. R. Hunter, who is leaving shortly to make her home in Port Alberni. On behalf of the members of Britannia Lodge No. 216, Mrs. Paterson, the worthy mistress, presented Mrs. Hunter with a beautiful silver relish dish. During the evening four tables of bridge were in play, prizes being won by Mrs. Ray Elwood, first; Mrs. M. Carter, second, and Mrs. M. Crabtree, consolation. Dainty refreshments were served. The invited guests were Mrs. W. Bradley, Mrs. M. Carter, Mrs. D. Cuthbert, Mrs. M. Caldwell, Mrs. J. Cuthbert, Mrs. R. Christian, Mrs. M. Crabtree, Mrs. Ray Elwood, Mrs. Giddens (Calgary), Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. E. Jane, Mrs. J. Miller, Mrs. A. Mummery, Mrs. W. Blair, Mrs. C. Smith and Mrs. D. R. Hunter.

Miss Grace Duncan, whose marriage to Mr. A. H. Jones will take place on August 28, was the guest of honor at a shower held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. L. Stevenson, St. Andrew's Street. Upon her arrival the bride-elect was taken to the seat of honor under a huge parasol, decorated with pink and white crepe paper, and received the lovely gifts of linen which had been showered beneath it. Games and music were enjoyed and refreshments were served from a table laid with a beautiful cutwork cloth and having as its centerpiece a crinoline lady cake iced in pink and white. From the chandelier hung a white wedding bell with pink and white streamers caught in at the corners of the table. Pink sweet peas in a silver basket, and tall cream tapers in silver scones completed this attractive bridal motif. Mrs. J. Stevenson and Mrs. T. R. Handasyde poured tea, while Misses M. Neilson, Gladys Acreman and Christine Stevenson assisted in serving. The guests were Mrs. A. C. Warwick, Mrs. C. Maclean, Mrs. T. Horne, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. McCraill, Mrs. T. Marshall, Mrs. Findlay, Mrs. Berwick, Mrs. T. Burns, Mrs. C. Henderson, Mrs. T. Neilson, Mrs. Stronach, Mrs. E. Gatehouse, Mrs. Tuson, Mrs. T. Hurley, Mrs. W. Dunn, Mrs. King, Mrs. R. Duncan, Mrs. T. R. Handasyde, Mrs. B. Acreman, Mrs. J. Stevenson and Misses Olive Maclean, Margaret Horne, Jean McNaught, V. Wheeling, Frances Horne, Margaret Neilson, A. Jackson, Christine Stevenson, Mary Neilson, Gladys Acreman, Grace Stevenson, M. Williams and Agnes Stevenson.

Recent guests at Brenta Lodge, Brentwood Bay, include Mr. and Mrs. Neil D. Sills, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. H. F. Hopper, Mr. Henry Hopper, Mr. Wilbur M. Hopper and Misses Margery and Francis Hopper, Pasadena, Cal.; Mrs. J. Hanbury, Vancouver; Miss Catherine P. Briggs and Miss Francis L. Chase, New York.

This will be the fifth of similar picnics held this summer, the previous ones being for ex-Manitobans, Albertans, Saskatchewan residents and the Bruce, Huron and Geary County old boys of Ontario. Mr. Seeley said he believed there were hundreds of former Newfoundlanders in the city who would like to join and talk over old times. He announced the time of the picnic as next Saturday at 2, at the Willows Beach.

Housekeeping Under Fire Difficult Task

Shanghai Woman Describes Shopping Difficulties In Air Raids

By ELISABETH LANTY HARRIS
Wife of the Associated Press Chief of Bureau in Shanghai

SHANGHAI—The war caught me with a market basket on my arm. That was last Saturday, and since then we have had air bombs, artillery duels, machine gun battles and infantry assaults. It's getting worse every day. Saturday I started out, as usual, to do my weekend shopping at a Chinese market. I soon found that bargaining—a great national pastime in China—was useless. Because of the war, the utmost confusion prevailed.

Vegetables, meats and other foodstuffs were plentiful, but prices had doubled overnight. One paid the price asked, or the Chinese merchant offered the goods to the next housewife.

It was then I got the idea of laying in a supply of canned goods. That afternoon I went to the largest Chinese department store. It became apparent immediately the canned goods idea had occurred to others. The usually well-stocked shelves of the store were all but empty.

Along with scores of other women, I threw away my prepared list and took what I could get.

IN AIR RAID
As I was leaving the market, I stopped to buy some flea soap for our dog, Scottie. Suddenly, there was a terrific commotion.

Somebody called out dramatically, "air raid!" Heavy iron shutters were pulled quickly over windows and doorways. This was not to protect the store from bombing, but to prevent hysterical rush of frightened, helpless Chinese humanity, mostly refugees, who were scurrying to safety.

Looking up, we saw the heavens dotted with airplanes, making great puffs of black smoke as each bomb dropped. Anti-aircraft began a stuttering staccato fire which made the sky an inferno. I was more fascinated than frightened, because it was my baptism of fire.

Strangely, there was no panic among the Chinese clerks and salesmen. One of them continued calmly sweeping the floor.

After an intensive air bombing things became quieter. I returned to my shopping. Having read a lot about air raids in Spain, I had wondered how I would react to one.

Well, now I know. I didn't faint. I didn't become hysterical. Nor did I—as I had hoped to do—become heroic.

I just went on and bought flea soap for our dog.

That was Saturday, the 14th. During the last five days it has been a succession of listening to the utmost continuous bombing and shelling, rushing from window to window or to the roof to get a view of air raids which occur several times daily, tuning in on hourly radio broadcasts of latest news from the front, and, in between, trying to adjust my household to a new routine of living.

Not receiving our daily bottle of milk was the first break in routine; but as long as the supply of canned milk holds out, that is not much of a problem.

GAS SUPPLY CUT OFF
The city gas supply was cut off yesterday as a precaution against fire. Now our cooking is done on a funny little clay stove which I borrowed from a Chinese cook.

We use charcoal in this stove and have laid in a reserve supply, which we keep on the front veranda of our apartment—just in case.

The water supply and electric lights are still all right, but I've put in a supply of bottled water for emergencies, together with plenty of candles, two lanterns and a can of kerosene.

Theatres and movies have closed. Trolley lines and motor buses have stopped running. Gasoline for private cars is being conserved jealously.

The damage of being struck by stray pieces of shrapnel from anti-aircraft while walking or riding in the streets keeps us all close to home.

Expectant Mother Is Heroine

Rescues Child From Well Just Before Son's Birth

CLINTON, Ind. (AP)—Slightly-built Mrs. Glenn McGow, who gave birth to a six and a half-pound son six hours after plunging into a well to rescue her two-year-old daughter, said today she hoped "I will never get that close to so much water again."

Mrs. McGow, 30, wife of a relief worker, explained she always had a "deathly fear" of water and never even enjoyed wading. "But I forgot all about that when I saw Mary Nell fall," Mrs. McGow said. "I ran about 25 feet, looked down and saw her blue eyes. I couldn't stand that and jumped in head first."

The well contained eight feet of water, and Mrs. McGow is only five feet two inches tall.

A son, Charles, eight, who was drawing water prior to the mishap, threw a rope to his mother, held the other end and screamed for help. His sister, Joyce, nine, ran for her father, a quarter of a mile away.

Dick McLeish, a neighbor, heard Charles, hurried to the scene and held the woman and her child above water until four men lifted them out.

Mrs. McGow was unconscious two hours after the rescue and gave birth to the boy four hours later yesterday. The baby was born three weeks prematurely.

Physician said Mrs. McGow, Mary Nell and the baby were "out of danger" today.

Gov.-General Gets Bad Weather

Heavy Rains Halt Riding At Intata Lake Camp

By B.C. Police Radio
CAMP A, INTATA LAKE, B.C.—Lady Tweedsmuir had her first horseback ride today on a trail from Intata Lake to Chelashie Lake. The Governor-General had his first ride of the present north-western tour.

Bad weather with heavy rain and cold forced the party to return after completing about two miles of the 12-mile trip over the trail. Guides said Her Excellency took easily to riding and appeared to enjoy herself. Lady Tweedsmuir herself said she was beginning also to enjoy flying, an experience which made her feel ill the first time.

The vice-regal party lost its two aides-de-camp temporarily today when Lieut. C. G. Rivers Smith and Capt. G. P. Campbell Preston decided to camp out for the night about 20 miles from here.

They took their fishing tackle, tent, sleeping bags, a boat and Dave Romieu, B.C. game warden for this area, to guide them. The weather was miserable most of the day and they faced the prospect of a wet camp with bad flies; it appeared not to worry them in the least, however. Capt. Campbell-Preston already has experienced one wet day after falling off a log from which he was fishing and landed in water about up to his armpits. He returned to camp minus his trousers, with a blanket wrapped around him like a kilt.

Four other camp inhabitants accompanied Their Excellencies on today's ride, Hon. Alastair Buchanan, their son, T. W. S. Parsons, assistant-commissioner of B.C. Provincial Police; Mark Connelly, Omnesa member of the Legislature, and Louis Lebourdais, Cariboo member.

In thinking that there are few women like me, that's no reason why he shouldn't—What are you laughing at?" "Jerry!" said Andrew, instantly solemn. "He is in a dreadful fix, isn't he?" (Copyright, 1937, McNaught Syndicate Inc.)

HOROSCOPE
"The stars incline, but do not compel." Benoit's ancient rule today, according to astrology, it is a time for making any concessions which will make it possible to speed up business and commerce. Industry is under a fortunate sway which seems to indicate the co-operation of labor at a time when factories in certain lines are under stress and strain. Inventors, mechanics, engineers and contractors are subject to a way that stimulates all constructive work. Young men just out of college should benefit. While Uranus is in threatening aspect and judgment may not be impartial, practical plans should be pushed wherever possible. Many men and many women now will be of divergent mind, as there are sharp cleavages of opinion among workers as well as executives in business and government projects. This is not a lucky day for making new acquaintances or putting trust in strangers. Many secret plans now may be in operation and numerous spies may be active. The rule is unfavorable for first meetings between girls and eligible youths. Suspicion and criticism are easily aroused under this rule of the stars. Persons whose birthdate is to reveal new trends, it is forecast, in many universities girls will outnumber men. The coming academic year is to develop changes in general trends of study. Victoria Cricketers Put On Fine Stand

Touring M.C.C. Players Squeeze Through To Win

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

GENE SARAZEN considers Ralph Guldahl's 281 in the United States open championship at Oakland Hills the greatest golf exploit of the year—more impressive even than Henry Cotton's 290 in the British open at Carnoustie.

Yet the Squire of Valley Ridge Farm calls Cotton a finer shot-maker than Guldahl. He classes the Chicagoan as a streaky player—doesn't like the way he loosens his grip at the top of his swing. Like everybody else, Sarazen rates Harry Cooper as the finest shotmaker in the United States, but says that Lighthorse Harry is less effective than Cotton because he lacks the Briton's physical strength and unwavering determination.

Cotton's long game has no equal in modern golf. His terrific wood shots have a tail-end hook to them on the American plan, after which they were fashioned.

Sarazen asserts that Sam Snead has greater potentialities than any other American golfer, but points out that the young man from White Sulphur Springs must develop headwork. If he doesn't want to wind up among the might-have-beens.

Courses are built for strong backs and thoughtful heads. The British contend that you've missed your shot if you hit a 240-yard drive straight down the middle into a bunker. Keeping out of trouble is known as strategic golf on the other side.

Many of the co-called second-flighters hit the ball better than the top-flighters, but do not win championships because they park their brains in the locker room. "Snead is a natural swinger, but plays too many dumb shots at critical moments," explains Sarazen.

"His judgment was poor at Carnoustie. I saw him take a brassie on the sixth hole, when he should have had a spoon, and pull the ball 70 yards off time and well beyond the green. A likely four was turned into a seven because he didn't use his head."

"Sam complained about driving into cross-ditches and mid-fairway traps, but the hazards could be seen plainly from the tees. None of the Carnoustie holes are blind."

Sarazen still can't figure how anybody could annihilate Oakland Hills as did Guldahl in the United States open.

Again comparing Guldahl with Cotton, Sarazen sees the latter's grip the much more secure. The hands of the one-time darling of Eton School are snugly interlaced throughout the swing. They never slacken or come apart. That is why Cotton is the more consistent score player.

Both Cotton and Guldahl are tall, but the former is much more powerful than he looks.

Sarazen classes Snead's full wood shots from the fairway the nearest thing to Cotton's in length and accuracy.

Sarazen chuckles about winning the Chicago open, the biggest money event of the season.

They suspected that he was finished as a competitive golfer. Sarazen reveals that his trouble of late years has been the inability to wage the uphill fight that made him famous—sweep him to victory at Fresh Meadow and in many other major battles. He got away well in Chicago.

"In the old days a bad opening round acted like a shot in the arm for me," says the Italian. "I fought harder and played better golf when I had to come from behind."

Jack Payne and Reg Wenman Brilliant In One-wicket Defeat

Fine Fielding

Brilliant bowling by young Jack Payne and sensational fielding by the agile Reg. Wenman featured a thrilling stand by Victoria's eleven in the exhibition match against the touring Marylebone Cricket Club side at Macdonald Park yesterday, which resulted in a victory for the English players by the narrow margin of one wicket. The visitors lost nine batsmen before they passed the Victoria total of 87 and the innings closed for 97.

The match, played in perfect weather, drew a gallery of around 700 in the afternoon and the spectators got a real thrill over the close finish. As the English team's wickets went down in rapid fashion the supporters were calling for a Victoria victory.

The M.C.C.'s total was the lowest of the tour to date and, apart from A. G. Powell, young Essex wicketkeeper, who hit up 35 runs, the batsmen were at the mercy of the Victoria spin bowlers. Powell went in at the fall of the sixth wicket and immediately attacked the bowling. He was the last player to be dismissed, finally being clean bowled by Payne.

Payne, leg-break trundler, was in rare form, taking five M.C.C. wickets for the small cost of 23 runs. His exhibition had much to do with the fine showing made by the local side. Reg. Wenman, Victoria skipper, did splendid work in the slips and caught no less than three of the visiting batsmen. His one-handed catch of a cut from the bat of J. T. Neve was the highlight of the match. After taking the ball Wenman rolled head over heels on the turf but came up with it for an out. In addition Wenman took two wickets for 29 runs. Les Gibbons took a pair for 18 and G. C. Grant one for 17.

After putting on 87 runs before the lunch interval the Victoria side collapsed. H. A. Goward and G. Austin the last batsmen, going down for ducks. The last four batsmen on the Victoria eleven failed to add a run to the total.

A. P. Singleton was the most effective bowler for the M.C.C., sending down six overs to capture five wickets for 12 runs. J. M. Brocklebank obtained five for 21.

The match officially concluded at the tea interval at 4, but members of the visiting and local club engaged in exhibition play until stumps were drawn at 6.30.

Victoria put on 94 runs for five wickets. Wenman lashed out at the bowling to put on 42, while Tisdall contributed a 31. The M.C.C. followed on and also went down for runs, getting 94 for three. Forbes was high bat with 31, closely followed by Ford with 29.

Today the M.C.C. is playing at Duncan against a team strengthened by players from Victoria. On Friday and Saturday the tourists will play two matches at Vancouver to conclude their visit to British Columbia.

The score card follows—

DOUBLE MAIN EVENT CARDED

Singh, Thunderbird, Boesch and Sampson Booked for Mat Bouts

Promoter Fred Richardson will swing from the usual routine wrestling show this Saturday and in the place of the semi-main and headline bouts will stage a double main feature, both of which will be over the 10 six-minute round rule.

Paul "Bombshell" Boesch, New York; Harman Singh, Punjab, India; Chief Thunderbird, Saanich Indian, and Jack Sampson, a newcomer to the local battlefront, have been booked.

Boesch, a clean and clever wrestler who is an expert in the art of drop-kicking, will match holds with the powerful Hindu in one of the duels and Sampson and Thunderbird will grapple in the other ten-rounder.

Singh, Boesch and Thunderbird have all been seen in action here before and are well liked by local mat followers. Sampson will be making his initial appearance. He is said to be of the rough and ready type who creates lots of excitement.

In addition to the double event there will be the usual special and preliminary bouts, the latter opening the show at 8.45.

WINDSOR, Ont.—Jack Murdoch, 18-year-old Detroit "mystery" wrestler, was released by police here yesterday after spending a night in jail as a result of a fracas that followed a wrestling match Tuesday night.

Booked for assault, Murdoch was released when a woman he was alleged to have struck with a board failed to prefer a charge against him. The wrestler wore a red and white mask in the ring in his match with Ivan Rasputin and kept it on throughout the time he spent in jail.

South Africans Again Victors

Visiting Bowlers Defeat C.P.R.—Victoria West Forces

South Africa's lawn bowlers were on their way eastward today, having added the scalps of the Canadian Pacific and Victoria West combined forces to their belts. Yesterday, at the Canadian Pacific greens, the visitors defeated the local combination 146 to 91, but could not prevent two C.P.R. rinks from taking matches.

Jim Raeside and G. B. Dixon skipped their sides to close victories over the South Africans, coming through on the last end to win by scores of 20 to 19 and 22 to 19, respectively.

At the close of the play the visitors gathered on the green for their usual sing-song and presentation of a bannerette. The captain of the visiting team again voiced appreciation of the splendid hospitality shown by the city clubs. The president of the Canadian Pacific Club, J. Belanger, congratulated the South Africans on their performances.

Luncheon was served at the club by the Canadian Pacific Women's Club members, and last night, from 8 to midnight, bowlers of the city gathered at the Burnside Club for an excellent programme of entertainment.

Giants Only Two Games From Cubs

New York Club Continues Sensational Comeback In National Baseball

The "experts" who climbed 'way out on that creaky limb for the Chicago Cubs a couple of weeks ago were scrambling all over each other today, trying to get back before the thing broke in two under them.

You could hear it cracking wide open all over the National League, particularly in gleeful New York, whose galloping Giants were only two games off the pace; in Pittsburgh, where the once more pounding Pirates were moving along at their fastest pace since early in the season, and in glum Chicago, where Cubs were giving unmistakable signs of quietly folding up and stealing away.

The Bucs pinned the fifth straight setback on the injury-flicked Windy City wallpapers yesterday, winning 7 to 6 with a two-run rally in the ninth, to climb back into a virtual tie for third place. At the same time, the Giants, making the most of their newly-discovered ability to hit timely, behind their top-flight flinging, belted the Boston Bees, 9 to 1, for their fifth straight win, and were only a pitch and putt off the pace.

While the Giants have been taking the second division Phillies and Bees during their current winning streak, the Pirates have run into the tougher sockers from St. Louis and Chicago, with the same results. Whichever way you look at it, however, it appears the Giants and Pirates may yet fight it out for the flag, with the St. Louis Cardinals still to be heard from and the Cubs praying for fewer bandages on more ball players.

YANKS COAST ALONG

Meanwhile, the New York Yankees are slugging along on an 11½-game lead in the American League, waiting for the rival circuit to decide whether it'll be another New York subway series, or whether Chicago, Pittsburgh or St. Louis will be the party of the second part.

Murderers row made it three straight over the Washington Senators yesterday with a 7 to 6 decision on the strength of jolting Joe DiMaggio's 35th homer, which broke up the ball game in the ninth inning.

The second-place Detroit Tigers were trounced thoroughly by the Chicago White Sox, losing 6 to 0 to Vernon Kennedy's fourth-hit flinging. The Philadelphia A's scored their first win of the year over the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 2. The Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns broke even in a double bill, Cleveland coming through 5 to 2 in the opener and then dropping an 11 to 6 clouting contest. The Brooklyn Dodgers and Phils were rained out and the St. Louis Cards and Cincinnati Reds took the day off.

A meeting of the Intercity association has been called for tomorrow evening to discuss the resignation, which McKenzie in a letter to McConaghy said was due to ill-health.

CLUBMEN TO MEET BRUINS

Hollywood Club Scores 10 to 4 Win Over I.O.O.F. to Reach City Final

Hollywood Club B softballers advanced to meet Painter's Bruins in the city championship play-offs last night when they defeated Esquimalt Millionaires, 10 to 4, at Victoria West Park. Four-base knocks by Harry Barber and Austin Webster paved the way to victory for the clubmen.

Painter's Bruins registered a 7 to 5 win over I.O.O.F. in a Poodle Dog Cafe Cup series. The winners got their runs from a dozen safeties. Kirkbride rapped out a home run in the fifth with the bags empty. Harold Turner, hurrying for Bruins, breezed 13, while the opposing heaver, Hurdle, fanned five.

New Method Laundry won from the Navy by default.

Smiling Comox Valley Unspoiled Summer Resort

Elk Hotel Offers Perfect Accommodation

The valley of the Comox with its sandy beaches and secluded bays, its perfect farm lands and belts of woodlands, its tiny streams and bigger rivers, offers to the lover of out-of-doors every facility for enjoyment of his favorite recreation whether it be fishing, boating, bathing, hiking or simply the joy of life amongst unspoiled surroundings.

Fishermen find the waters surrounding Comox peninsula splendid for game fish, including the mighty Tyee salmon. Many visitors from the United States and other countries add their praise to that of Canadian sportsmen. They are unanimous in proclaiming that the Comox Valley sport possibilities are some of the best on Vancouver Island.

THE ELK HOTEL

Thinking or speaking of the Comox Valley means thinking also of the Elk Hotel. Here is one of the best-known tourist hotels on the coast. It caters to an increasing number of guests every season and is well spoken of by visitors from all parts of the world. It is situated in a beautiful grove of grand old maple trees on a gentle slope leading down to the water's edge. There are wide verandas and huge windows facing out over the water, a comfortable lounge and delightful dining-room. Meals are perfectly cooked and daintily served in a way to tempt the most jaded appetite. The hotel boasts all the modern comforts usually to be found only in much larger resort centres. There is tennis, boating, bathing and fishing all close at hand, and two excellent golf courses in the valley just a short distance from the hotel.

FORBIDDEN PLATEAU NEAR

The Comox Valley is an ideal summer spot to make as a headquarters for jaunts into every part of upper Vancouver Island. It is within a short distance of the famed Forbidden Plateau and a good motor road leads from Comox to Campbell River and Forbes Landing. Another road leads back down the island to Cameron Lake and the Albernis and to that thriving little city of Cumberland.

The Comox Peninsula is also famed for its splendid panorama of beautiful scenery. The sweep of shoreline takes in not only an exceptional view of Vancouver Island from Courtenay far down toward Qualicum and Nanossee Bay with the many tiny dots of islands that cluster along the shore but there is a perfect picture to be seen far off on the mainland of British Columbia. There is a picturesque little town and a considerable farming district. No tourist plans are complete without a visit to the Comox Valley before leaving Vancouver.

Gay Picnic Held By Beaver Club

More Than 300 Hudson's Bay Employees Enjoy Outing at Elk Lake

Carefree, and with the benefit of ideal weather, members of the Hudson's Bay Company Beaver Club and their friends and families, numbering slightly more than 300, yesterday enjoyed a picnic at the Elk Lake grounds.

Seven bus-loads of happy Hudson's Bay employees and their companions, all eager for a full afternoon and evening of real fun, left the store promptly at 1. For a quarter of an hour before the buses left, the sidewalk was lined with girls in colorful outing costumes, men in shirt-sleeves, and children impatient to start.

The afternoon programme of sports, both on land and in the water, commenced as soon as the main body of picnickers had arrived. Arrangements for the picnic were made by R. Fletcher and a capable committee including C. Nicholls, Miss L. McAdams, Mrs. L. E. Leonard, D. Fish, H. Henry, W. Flett, R. Eaton, H. Ward and S. Campion.

J. S. Horn, comptroller, represented the management of the store in the absence of A. J. Watson, the general manager.

SPORTS PROGRAMME

Races for contestants of all ages were held during the afternoon, and entries were numerous in the novelty competitions, such as the paper bag race, the peanut race, and the sack and three-legged races.

A husky team composed of Hudson's Bay Company delivery drivers carried off the laurels in the men's tug-of-war, while the "Worrywarts" took the women's honors.

R. Eaton, H. Ward and S. Campion acted as track officials. For a few minutes after the picnic began, members of the Beaver Club were turning to their neighbors and asking: "Do you park, shop and dine at the Bay?" The object of the constant query was to find the mystery man, whom Miss Lillian Leasie spotted early during the afternoon. Harold Simpson, display artist for the company, was the man.

PRIZES PRESENTED

Prizes were distributed to those who were successful in the races and competitions at the end of the sports programme. J. S. Horn made the presentations.

At 5.30, after most of the younger people had enjoyed swimming in the lake, an appetizing picnic supper was served on tables set out beneath the trees.

The departmental managers engaged the "Third Floor Washouts" in a game of softball following supper, while many members of the Beaver Club left for Victoria to prepare for a dance in the evening.

The dance was held at Hamsterly Lakeside, starting soon after dark, and proved extremely popular. A large number of young people danced to the tunes of a popular orchestra until the chartered buses returned to the city. The St. John Ambulance Brigade was represented on the picnic grounds by Ambulance Officer Herbert Stokes, which made parents confident that their children would be expertly attended to in the event of accident. "Big brothers" helped to entertain the little folk throughout the afternoon.

Ontario Group Holds Picnic

Horse-shoe pitching, quoits, jigs, shuffleboard and other games provided entertainment for approximately 200 members of the Bruce, Huron and Gray Old Boys' Association at the annual picnic at Mount Douglas Park yesterday.

During the day Jessie Pollock presented several selections on the pipes. Supper was served on tables under the trees.

James Dinsmore presided and Mrs. Nellie McClung, Miss Edna Colbeck, Regina; Rev. John Garden, Hamilton, and Rev. James Strachan, formerly of First Baptist Church here, spoke.

Cattle that graze continuously on the Great Plains in summer need at least seven acres of pasture per head, to feed them without injuring the vegetation.

Visiting Mayors Desire Close
Co-operation for Island
Development

Mayors and aldermen of Vancouver Island joined today in voicing a desire for intermunicipal co-operation for the greater development of the island as a whole as they met at the Empress Hotel as luncheon guests of the City of Victoria.

"We feel Victoria is the finest city in British Columbia and we are happy it is on the island," Major John Barsby, Nanaimo, declared. "As cities and municipalities we should be united in the common cause of forwarding the interests of Vancouver Island. We are enjoying that prosperity which Victoria has helped to bring to the island and we appreciate it."

His remarks followed a brief welcome by Acting-Mayor James Adam who presided at the function. Mr. Adam extended a greeting to the visitors on behalf of Mayor Andrew McGavin. The purpose of the luncheon was to enable the different chief magistrates to become better acquainted and to mark the 75th anniversary of Victoria, he said. It was very gratifying to see such a turnout, declaring such gatherings of mutual benefit to those who participated in them. He referred to the heavy tourist travel this year and stated Victoria had been instrumental in sending many of the visitors up island.

VOICE APPRECIATION

Mayor W. W. Walkem, Lady-smith, expressed the party's appreciation and called upon Mayor Barsby to reply.

The Nanaimo leader expressed congratulations to the city on its 75th anniversary of incorporation and voiced the 'up-island centres' warm friendship for the capital. Alderman S. H. Okell spoke of the benefits that accrued from a better acquaintance between municipal leaders. "The better we know and understand each other, the better we can help each other," he said.

Mr. Adam extended birthday congratulations to Mayor Walkem.

Following the gathering the party left to attend baseball and lacrosse games scheduled at the Athletic Park.

Those attending the function were:

Alderman John Woodford, Port Alberni; Mayor James Greig, Duncan; Acting Mayor James Adam, Victoria; Alderman J. M. Crossland, Port Alberni; Alderman E. W. Lee, Duncan; Alderman Wm. T. Grieves, Nanaimo; Alderman J. G. Hindmarch, Nanaimo; Alderman Archie Wills, Victoria; Alderman S. H. Okell, Victoria; Alderman W. Floyd Morgan, Victoria; Mayor J. Barsby, Nanaimo; Mayor W. C. Hamilton, Port Alberni; Mayor W. W. Walkem, Ladysmith, and Mayor V. Tingey, Alberni.

WHARF PLAN HITS SNAG

City Told Plan to Limit
Ships' Speed to Protect Fish Boats "Not Feasible"

Victoria's efforts to secure a special floating wharf where fishermen might leave their boats during the winter, encountered another snag today with the reception of a letter from A. W. R. Wilby, agent for the Department of Transport.

The council had replied to a prior letter from Mr. Wilby in which the city body had suggested ships moving out of the harbor regulate their speed to such a rate that boats would not be damaged. The suggestion was made by Victoria, following reception of Mr. Wilby's previous letter, in which he had pointed out the danger of boats being damaged by the wash from ships.

"I am of the opinion that this is not feasible," Mr. Wilby wrote in reference to the plan to regulate the speed of ships. "It is only at the period of low tides that any danger of damage exists and vessels would have to move so slowly in order to eliminate any possibility of creating a wash that they would have little or no control of themselves, and as the passage of Johnson Street Bridge has to be taken care of, I feel that any such regulation might set up a hazardous situation," he wrote in part.

Acting Mayor James Adam said the opinion voiced by Mr. Wilby would be strongly protested. The matter will come up for discussion at the City Council meeting Monday evening.

He that trusteth in his riches shall fall; but the righteous shall flourish as a branch.—Proverbs 11: 28.

Salmon Ground Greatest Here

T. Johnson Tells Rotarians of Huge Fishing Industry
in B.C.

The greatest salmon grounds in the world were on the Pacific Coast, Thomas Johnson, new member of the Rotary Club here and formerly connected with the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Plant at Prince Rupert, told members of the club at a weekly luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel this afternoon.

Salmon fishing was 33 per cent of the whole Canadian fishing industry, he said. The canning of salmon was begun 60 years ago and from an annual value of $100,000 the industry had increased until it was worth $14,000,000 a year now.

Refrigeration as a method of preservation had come to the B.C. fishing industry in the last 30 years, Mr. Johnson said. Despite the fact that some of the finest plants in the world were here, a perfect cold storage system had not yet been invented.

Mr. Johnson drew attention to the halibut treaty to protect the last great halibut banks in the world. By agreeing upon a closed season and restricting the total catch to 46,000,000 pounds a year, the halibut had been saved for posterity.

He said that scientists were tagging salmon to learn more about this fish so that a control similar to the halibut treaty could be put into effect and the salmon would never be depleted.

There were a large quantity of flat fish on the Pacific Coast, Mr. Johnson said. None of these were being fished at the present time, but he saw a day when the flat fish would rival the salmon. Throughout the world there were 15,000,000 square miles of water of less than 100 fathoms depth where there were fields and forests, prairies and pastures over which the sea brought food for fish.

"It used to be said that eating fish makes b.ains," Mr. Johnson said. "I don't think the doctors agree to that now, but I think that they will agree that eating fish shows brains."

Captain T. J. Goodlake, president of the club, was in the chair.

Fairbridge Is Costly School

But Lord Kenilworth Won't Say What Canadians
Should Do About It

"This school on Vancouver Island is costing the English people a lot of money; don't you think it's about time you Canadians contributed something?" asked Lord Kenilworth, vicar of the Fairbridge Farm Schools, who was at the Empress Hotel this morning.

Lord Kenilworth, however, would not be drawn into a discussion of what he thought the Canadian people should do to help support the school near Duncan, where 100 English children are being trained for farm life as young Canadians. Nor would he talk about immigration from the British Isles to Canada.

"That is up to the people of Canada, and we don't believe in telling them what to do," was all he would say.

He did say, however, he was pleased with the development of the Vancouver Island school and that 56 more English children would be sent out next month, traveling in two parties. Fairbridge will then be filled to capacity, with approximately 150 boys and girls.

Lord Kenilworth came to Canada with Gordon Green, secretary of the schools, and was accompanied to Victoria yesterday by Colonel H. L. Logan, principal of the Duncan school.

This morning they called on Premier Pattullo at the Parliament Buildings. Lord Kenilworth and Mr. Green took the afternoon boat to Vancouver en route across Canada for London. This was Lord Kenilworth's first visit to western Canada, although he had been in the east before. He was impressed with the beauties of the island, and marveled at the "luxuriousness" of living in the west.

"You all seem prosperous," he said. "You are spending lots of money and living in absolute luxury."

At the Victoria and District British-Israel (World Federation) Association meeting on Tuesday night at the Y.M.C.A. hall, Mrs. O. Brake spoke on the "Life Line of Israel," tracing it from where it started in Genesis 15 to its fulfillment on Calvary. She claimed that neither the Jews nor the Arabs had any right to Palestine; the Jews because they had not accepted the Lord as the Messiah, and the Arabs, because through Ishmael, their ancestor, their country lies to the east of, and not in Palestine.

GIRL ADMITS CHARGE FALSE

Fifteen-year-old Calmly Tells Court Signed Statement Untrue

A 15-year-old girl sat calmly in the witness box in City Police Court this morning and admitted the whole of a statement which she had signed charging a young man with supplying her with liquor was false.

The charge against the man was dismissed.

"Do you know it is wrong to tell the police lies?" Magistrate Henry Hall asked her.

"No," she replied simply.

"Do you know it is an offence under law to mislead a police officer?"

"No."

"Do you know it is the most wretched thing you can do to blame a man for an offence he has not committed?"

"No," she answered calmly.

The girl was arrested on the night of July 17 in an alley off Wharf Street. She and a companion, another girl, had four bottles of beer in their possession. She told police the beer had been given her by the young man in question, and signed a statement to that effect.

In court this morning she admitted the beer had been given by her mother to take to the mother of the girl who accompanied her, but that they had kept it for themselves.

Fox hit up 16 runs before he was caught by Nigel Wykes off A. P. Singleton. Later William Mowbray and G. G. Bais defied the attack and were together at the interval when the former was credited with 14 and his partner 4.

During the morning J. T. Nevel, Kent, fast bowler, took three wickets for 9 runs, and A. P. Singleton, Oxford University captain, four for 8.

DUNCAN (CP) — Cowichan Cricket Club failed badly against the touring Marylebone Cricket Club team in the third match of its series on the Pacific Coast today and at lunch had lost eight wickets for 51 runs.

Carelessness of smokers and thoughtlessness on the part of young boys and girls are blamed by officers of the city fire department for the unprecedented crop of bush and grass blazes which have kept the city's equipment busy for several days.

Some of the fires, most of which have been in Beacon Hill Park, are known to have been deliberately set, probably by youths seeking excitement. The city will prosecute when the young incendiaries are caught.

Largely because of this outbreak of small blazes, which so far have done little property damage, the number of alarms answered by the department so far this year is nearly as great as that for the whole of 1936.

There were two such blazes last night, near the flagpole in the park and on Musgrave Street, Oak Bay, and two this morning, one in the park and the other at the corner of Dallas Road and Douglas Street.

HENDERSON IN COURT DEBATE

Removal Order for Fuel Company Given After
Counsel Quits Case

An order for the summary removal of Joseph Lindal and Elmer Haikala, operators of the Empire Coal and Wood Company, from crown-owned lands in the old Songhees Reserve, was given by Magistrate Henry Hall this morning after Stuart Henderson had thrown up the case.

Mr. Henderson, defence counsel, raised repeated objections during the hearing, both as to the validity of a map submitted in evidence by an official of the Department of Lands and as to the jurisdiction of the court in the case in question.

After heated objections from the counsel, Magistrate Hall said: "You can say what you like, but that plan is going in."

"You're pushing that map down my throat," said Mr. Henderson.

"I'm not going on with this case. But I still make my objection that you have no jurisdiction."

W. P. Lawson, appearing for the department, adduced evidence that the fuel company had stacked mill and other wood on the property in spite of the presence of "no trespass" signs, and had ignored an earlier removal order.

Pirates of Days Gone By

IV—CAPTAIN KIDD

Where is the treasure of Capt. Kidd?

That question has been asked by great numbers of people, and hundreds have gone digging to find it. All along the Atlantic coast, as far north as Nova Scotia, there are legends of gold and jewels buried by the sea captain named William Kidd.

Kidd burying treasure on Gardiner's Island

Capt. Kidd lived at about the same time as Blackbeard, but obtained his booty from different seas. After serving in the British navy, he was put in command of a vessel called the Adventure. With a commission from the King to seize pirates, he voyaged to the Indian ocean. He also was given the "right" to attack French vessels, since warfare was going on between France and Great Britain at that time.

Reaching Madagascar, the largest island off Africa's eastern coast, Kidd looked about for pirates but couldn't find any. For several months, he cruised about the Indian ocean, at length heading for the coast of Arabia. Near the seaport of Aden, he captured a small Moorish vessel. Later he seized several other vessels, mostly Moorish, and took from them what valuables he could. His largest prize was called the Queda Merchant, and it provided booty worth about $150,000. This was divided among the Adventure's sailors.

The sailors of the Queda Merchant were placed safely on shore, and the vessel itself was manned by some of the sailors in Kidd's crew. Sailing to Madagascar, the Adventure and the other boat fell in with a vessel under command of a pirate named Culliford. Kidd treated Culliford like an old friend and gave him supplies. Some of Kidd's men deserted him and went to work for Culliford.

Capt. Kidd returned across the Atlantic and entered Long Island Sound. Touching at Gardiner's Island, he buried a great deal of his treasure there. He knew he was "wanted" as a pirate, but went to Boston and gave himself up. Later he was taken to England for trial, and was hanged.

Those are the main facts I have found in Capt. Kidd's life. To this day, there is a good deal of mystery about him. Some believe he was not really a pirate, but others say he was.

At his trial, Kidd defended himself by saying that the Moorish vessels he had captured had been flying the French flag. He said that he had treated the pirate Culliford like a friend only because he feared the guns of Culliford's ship. The full truth may never be known.

The treasure Capt. Kidd buried on Gardiner's Island was dug up soon afterward. With what was found on his ship, it had a value of $70,000. The Gardiner's Island treasure is the only burial by Kidd which is certainly known to have taken place.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—My husband and I have both worked ever since we were married. We now have a comfortable home and a nice car all paid for. Recently the company I worked for so long went out of business. That threw me out of a job and with nothing to do I am like a ship without a rudder. I don't need to work for the money, but I don't know what to do with my time. I find out that the girls I used to go with, who are all now married, have boy friends with whom they have affairs. They take their husbands' money to buy these boy friends presents and say they have a grand and glorious time. I am 35, still young-looking, dress well, and am very lonesome without my work that I was so used to having. I am only human. Will I fall into this awful way of living through lonesomeness?

MRS. F. G.

Answer—Not unless you are as lacking in all principle and sense of honor as your friends seem to be. And, take it from me, you will be a lot more lonesome than you are now if you double-cross your husband and he finds it out—as he surely will—and turns you out of house and home.

It is true that the devil finds work for idle hands to do, particularly if they are feminine ones, so get busy about something, but don't let it be playing with fire. The woman who does that sooner or later burns her home down. Then she sits in the ashes she has been to throw away everything in life worth having for the thrill of having an illicit love affair with a contemptible cad whose attentions she had to buy.

Don't believe these women who tell you what a grand and glorious time they are having in these sordid intrigues. There is not a word of truth in it. They are filled with loathing for themselves and the despicable male parasites they are supporting. They live in dread of having their liaisons discovered and themselves disgraced. No woman ever gets any happiness out of living a double life and betraying the husband who trusts her.

It is quite true that after one has worked hard for so many years as you have that one does not know how to play or what to do with leisure, but you can fill your time in with other things than work. Now that you no longer need to earn money, why don't you try to cultivate your mind? Join study clubs. Learn how to read. Go in for church work or community service. Learn to play golf or tennis or bridge. Master the fine art of cookery. There are millions of things to do if you will only look about you to find them.

The surest cure for your lonesomeness is to have a baby. If you cannot do that, adopt one. If you have a little child to take care of, time will not hang heavy on your hands. The days won't be long enough to get everything done. And the fun you will have will be clean fun, not the sort that leaves a bitter taste in your mouth.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My husband and I have been married nine years and have two children. We were very happy until five years ago, when a girl fell in love with him and began pursuing him and doing everything in her power to break up our home. In order to avoid trouble and save our happiness we moved to another city and everything was serene until a few weeks ago, when I found letters from her to him, begging him to let her come to him and saying she could not live without him, etc. When I showed these letters to my husband he said he loved this girl and is only living with me as he feels he is under obligation to me and the children. He is devoted to the kiddies and is a good father and husband. What must I do? Take the children and leave, or stand it for their sake?

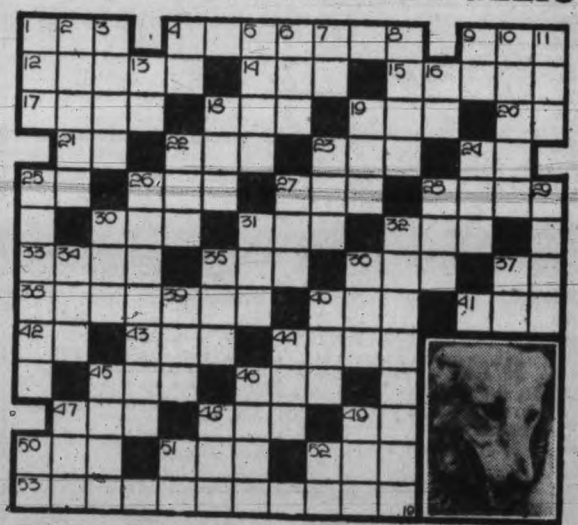

A BROKEN-HEARTED WIFE.

Answer—Stand pat and fight for your home. Don't let this conscienceless girl drive you out of it and take your husband away from you. Don't be like so many wives who get so panic-stricken when they find out that their husbands are philandering that they gather up their children and run to the divorce court without ever striking a single lick in their own defence. Remember that the odds are all in your favor and that you have the heavy artillery on your side.

DOROTHY DIX.

The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blank or dots in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during three of the usual tidal periods. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

SHIP'S BELL FOR NANAIMO

Capt. R. W. McMurray to Present Souvenir of Ss. Princess Patricia

Gone is the Princess Patricia, gallant pioneer turbine steamer of the Clyde and the British Columbia coast, but her brassy voice will continue to sound out over the trees and rocks of the coast she knew so well. Capt. R. W. McMurray, R.N.R., manager of the B.C. Coast Service and a Clyde man himself, gave the lie to the oft-repeated saying that big corporations are heartless and unimaginative when he announced today the Princess Patricia's ship's bell will be presented to the City of Nanaimo at a luncheon in Nanaimo Saturday aboard the steamer Princess Joan.

The mayor, aldermen, president of the Board of Trade, and other civic officials will attend the ceremony of dedication. The old steamer, with her sister ship, the King Edward, was launched on the Clyde in 1902. They were the first turbine ships to be built in all the world and as such made nautical history. The Princess Patricia, first christened the Queen Alexandra, operated on the Clyde with the King Edward, still in service there as an excursion steamer, but was burned to the waterline in 1911. Reconstructed, she came out to Victoria around the Horn in 1912 as the Princess Patricia and went into service for the Canadian Pacific. She was retired at the end of 1936, later sold to the ship's breakers and was burned for her metal off Victoria a few weeks ago.

Souvenir hunters bought up her binnacle, engine telegraphs, name plates and other articles of particular historical value, but Captain McMurray saved the bell for Nanaimo. For most of her years in Canadian Pacific service the gallant little two-stacker served the Nanaimo-Vancouver run and Captain McMurray considered it fitting to award the coveted bell to the island's coal city, with which she was so closely identified.

COAST SHIP SOLD

The motorship Noumea, under Panamanian registry, has been sold by Flood Brothers of San Francisco to the Dan Motor Company of Osland. She was formerly the Jutlandia. She will be renamed the Dan and placed under Norwegian registry. The ship is now in British Columbia waters under charter to the East Asiatic Company and will load full for English ports.

SEAMAN DROWNED

While painting the stern of the ship, Donald Archibald MacDonald, seaman of Ms. Pacific Grove, berthed at New Westminster yesterday, was drowned when the "cradle" in which he was seated with Lars Jensen, another seaman, tilted and threw him into the water.

Jensen managed to hold on to the cradle, but it is believed MacDonald was struck by the slowly-moving propeller and sank before help could reach him. His home is at Nunton Fiodda, Benbecula, South Uist, Scotland. The body had not been recovered this morning.

When a butterfly emerges, it is apt to walk a few steps to a better position, and there it rests an hour or longer, until body and wing tissues harden.
